

Help during COVID-19

Benefits of Classroom Amplification

Teachers are now faced with new challenges, teaching students at home and on campus at the same time. Masks must be worn for safety and it's difficult to talk loud enough to be heard by the class and video conferencing systems.

The solution is a quality; durable, small powered speaker with two channels of built in wireless system. Using a wireless headset microphone and wireless clip on body pack the teacher's voice will be amplified in the room. It easily interfaces with Zoom and other Video Conferencing Systems. It's simple to use and affordable. Anchor is made in California with a six year warranty.
